

The predictor (unconditional, no gust parameters) and probe family g use the same architecture and protocol, trained separately for each encoder family.